

Just one Website at the U.S. Department of Education tells you everything you need to know about getting federal student aid to help pay for your education after high school. Go to www.studentaid.ed.gov, apply for aid online, and get all the information you need from just one place.

You can fill out and transmit online the FAFSA for free. You can access department publications such as The Student Guide and Funding Your Education, and find everything you need to know about federal student aid programs.

www.studentaid.gov

FINANCIAL AID FOR TEXAS STUDENTS 2006-2007

This brochure, published by the Texas Financial Aid Information Center provides a complete listing of federal and state programs, application procedures, resources, and contact information. Call toll free 877/782-7322 to request your guide.

The SmartStudent™ Guide to Financial Aid

www.finaid.org

FinAid was established in the fall of 1994 as a public service. This award-winning site has grown into the most comprehensive annotated collection of information about student financial aid on the web. Access to FinAid is free for all users and there is no charge to link to the site.

FinAid has a stellar reputation in the educational community as the best Web site of its kind. It's comprehensive, it's informative, it's objective--and it's the first stop on the Web for students looking for ways to finance their education.